

Union Benefits

Below are mental health and addiction resources available through the British Columbia motion picture industry unions and guilds.

Services offered through Pacific Blue Cross. Psychologist and clinical counselor combined: $500/year per person on the coverage and 80% coverage. For treatment of an addiction or habituation when performed at a recognized drug and alcohol treatment facility, to a lifetime maximum of $5000.

DGC Benefits is hosted by J & D Benefits. The employee/member assistance program is provided by Shepell and offers confidential counselling referral service available to all DGC members in Good Standing. The plan also includes addiction / rehabilitation programs and treatment funding as well as extended health benefits for mental health and short term disability.

FSEAP's EFAP short-term clinical counselling services are confidential and include 24/7 access and crisis support. Personal counselling includes services for individuals, couples and families. The plan also includes addiction / rehabilitation programs and treatment funding as well as extended health benefits for mental health and short term disability.

The IATSE 667/669 Group Benefit Plan includes employee/member assistance program called LifeWorks. Lifeworks offers support with mental, financial, physical and emotional wellbeing. The plan also includes addiction / rehabilitation programs and treatment funding as well as extended health benefits for mental health and short term disability.

FSEAP offers confidential, professional counselling services to help individuals and family effectively resolve issues you may be facing. The plan also includes addiction / rehabilitation programs and treatment funding as well as extended health benefits for mental health.

AFBS Members' Insurance Program (AFBS) & Members Benefits Trust (MBT) includes employee / member assistance program provided by Lifeworks, addiction / rehabilitation programs and treatment funding, as well as extended mental health benefits. The plan also includes a short term disability program.

AFBS

MBT